

Collective for Community, Culture
and Environment

info@collectiveforcce.com
collectiveforcce.com

PATRICIA VOLTOLINI
Urban Planning and Economic Development

Patricia Voltolini is an urban planner, researcher and educator with expertise in local economic development and commercial and neighborhood revitalization, both nationally and internationally. Her experience includes strategic and participatory planning efforts with CBOs, BIDs and municipalities to promote neighborhood economic revitalization throughout the country, collaborations with street vendor groups to develop advocacy strategies, and assistance to various NYC organizations for zoning and planning actions. Patricia has a PhD in Planning and Public Policy from Rutgers University, an MS in Landscape Architecture from SUNY College of Environmental Science and Forestry, and a B.Arch from Universidade Federal do Rio Grande do Sul in Brazil.